MCKINLEY IMPROVING.

The latest despatch dated 17.11. Thursday evening, states that McKinley is very much improved. Still very low, but hopes are entertained for his recovery.

(From The Free Press)

President McKinley, the idol of the American people, the nation's chief executive and honored guest, lies prostrate, suffering the pangs inflicted to the bullets of a cowardly assassin while his life hangs in balance. On the Delaware avenue at the home of John G. Milburn, president of the Pan-American Exposition, with tearful face and heart torn by conflicting hopes and fears, sits the faithful wife whose devotion is known to all the nation.

It was a few moments after 4 p. m. while President McKinley was holding a public reception in the great Temple of Music on the Pan-American grounds that the cowardly attack was made, with what success time alone can tell. Standing in the midst of crowds, numbering thousands, surrounded by every evidence of good will, greeted by a motley throng of Polyglot people showered with expressions of love and loyalty, besieged by multitudes, all eager to clasp his hand; amidst these surroundings and with the ever-recurring plaudits of an admiring army of sightseers ringing in his ears, the blow fell and in an instant, pleasure gave way to pain, admiration to agony, folly turned to fury, and pandemonium followed.

It was shortly after 4 p. m. when one of the throng which surrounded the presidential party, a medium sized man of ordinary appearance and plainly dressed in black, approached as if to greet the president. Both Secretary Cortison and President Milburn noticed that one of the man's hands was swathed in a bandage or handkerchief. The reports of bystanders differ as to which hand. He worked his way amid the stream of people up to the edge of the dais until he was within two feet of the President.

President McKinley smiled, bowed and extended his hand in that spirit of geniality the American people so well know, when suddenly the sharp crack of a revolver rang out, loud and clear above the hum of voices, the shuffling of myriad feet and the vibrating waves of applause that ever and anon swept here and there over the assemblage. There was an instant of almost complete silence, like the hush that follows a clap of thunder or momentary silence ensues after the discharge of a bombshell.

The President stood stock still, a look of hesitancy, almost of bewilderment on his face, then he retreated a step while his pallor began to steal over his features. The multitude, only partially aware that something serious had happened paused in the silence of surprise, while necks were craned and all eyes turned as one toward the rostrum where a great tragedy was being enacted.

With a leap of a tiger three men threw themselves forward, as with one impulse and spring toward the would-be assassin. Two of them were U. S. secret service men who were on the outlook and whose duty it was to guard against such a calamity as had befallen the President and the nation. The third was a bystander, a negro, who had only an instant previously grasped in his dusky palm the hand of the President. As one man the trio hurled themselves upon the President's assailant. In a twinkling he was borne to the ground, his weapon wrested from his grasp and strong arms pinioned his arms. Then the great multitude which thronged the edifice began to move to a realizing sense of the awfulness of the scene of which they had been unwitting witnesses.

One bullet struck him on the upper portion of the breast bone, glancing and not penetrating; the second penetrated the abdomen five inches below the left nipple and one and one-half inches to the left of the medium line. The abdomen was opened through the line of the belt wound. It was found that the bullet had penetrated the stomach. The opening in the front wall of the stomach was carefully closed after which a search was made for a hole in the back of the body and stomach. This was found and also closed in the same way. The abdominal wound was closed without drainage. No injury to the intestines or other abdominal organs was discovered.

Oats For South Africa.

Mr. A. S. Rosenoll has received the following communication in reply to his letter on the subject of opening a market for Alberta oats: A. S. ROSENOLL, Esq., M. L. A. Wetaskiwin, Alta.

Sir,—Referring to correspondence in connection with the opening of a market for oats in South Africa, I beg to enclose for your information, copy of a letter received from Professor James W. Robertson.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. C. Honeyman,
Acting Dep. Com. of Agriculture.

Ottawa, Aug. 28, 1901.

Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 23rd. The question of the possible shipment of oats from Alberta to South Africa is under consideration and action. I have already obtained the necessary information from the railway people regarding transportation, and have the information in about a week regarding the probable cost of ocean transportation from Vancouver to Cape Town.

So far I have not been able to learn of any steamers willing to take up that traffic.

In the meantime you may rely on our Department doing everything possible to help the farmers in Alberta to find an outlet for their oats to South Africa or otherwise.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed) James W. Robertson.
Commissioner.

Knowledge vs. Ignorance.

To the Editor of The Times

I am a man with a family, and have found no small trouble in rearing boys and girls successfully, bringing them through their infancy. While doctors were scarce and hard to be reached and still harder to be paid, we neighbors, as a great family, lent our combined knowledge in suggesting what was best for the poor sufferer. Often our policies and concoctions brought temporary relief, and very often increased danger. We believed the day when a doctor, armed with any of the latest terms for organs and diseases, symptoms and cures, they vainly think they know all about the human system, and they stride into your home with the commanding air of a Napoleon Bonaparte and begin to diagnose (f) the case thus: "How often do you feed her?" Answer, "Every two hours, a little of this preparation the doctor gave me." "Pshaw, woman, you will kill your baby. Give me a bottle and a pint of good cow's milk, and let the child have all it wants. You will have this one die like the other. Doctors don't know anything about babies; a person has to be a mother to know anything." Another funeral. What foolish! You better say to a veterinary "you can't stop the colic in that colt; you have to be a horse to know anything about colts." Mr. Editor, I admit that our doctors do charge excessive high rates, yet I would rather employ scientifically trained practical knowledge than accept 150 pounds of brass and ignorance. All due respect to the intelligent mother who has studied the subject thoroughly.

I am, sir, yours,

A number signify their intention of going to Strathcona this week to attend the Pan American circus on Saturday. Our exchanges say this is the old Loring Bros. show, which galled the public so badly a couple years ago.

A meeting of the fire brigade and those who volunteer their services for the brigade, will be held in Heric's hall on Monday evening next for the purpose of organization and making preliminary arrangements for practicing.

In our report of the meeting held last week for the organization of a separate school board, we were in error. Joe Cowan was chairman of the meeting, and not J. W. Heric, as mentioned. Mr. Heric was elected one of the trustees.

The Financial District meeting of the Methodist church, Edmonton district, was held at Strathcona September 4th and 5th. The district was fully represented and a very inspiring meeting was held. The principle business of this meeting was to receive the reports of finances from the various missions and apportion claims on the missions for 1901. Two missions, Lacombe and Sturgeon, declaring their intention to ask no more aid, were transferred to the list of independent circuits. The other missions nearly all reported an increase in amounts promised of from 75 to 150 per cent in advance of last year. After the business was completed very helpful addresses were delivered by Revs. Scott, Robinson, Thacker, Perry, Auld, and Cairns on such subjects as Ministerial work in the pulpit, in the study, and among the people, "Conversion" and "The Failure of the spirit," closing Thursday evening with a powerful address by the chairman of the district, Rev. T. C. Buchanan, on "The Privileges and Responsibilities of Mission Work in Alberta." It was decided to hold a district Sunday School and Epworth League convention in November.

Battle River.

Eight more members of the Swedish Congregational church of the new Sweden district were baptized by immersion the other day. Rev. A. Ohman, the Baptist missionary, has also baptized several recently. Pastor Bergen with his new bride have already occupied his new home over two weeks. They have named their place "Alton Heights" because of its location above the Lake which received the name "Alton" last summer when a large number were baptized there into the fellowship of the Scandinavian Baptist church.

Mrs. Wright is expected here this week, to make this her home.

Mr. Clore has disposed of his farm to Mr. Ayers for the sum of $600.

Mr. Frid attended the Methodist district meeting held in Edmonton last week.

Mr. Bye, the section foreman has started a gang of four men on his division of the road.

Mr. Elders has gone up to the Sturgeon country to take off the crop he has up there.

What is the matter with the contractors of the school? Have they left the country, or what?

Mr. Dowler expects his wife and daughter to arrive from Chicago the latter part of this month.

Rev. Mr. Allen, the Presbyterian missionary, preached here last Sunday, but only a few were at the service.

Mr. Phillips has purchased a binder to take off his crop. Mr. Phillips is a rustling young man, and is one of the kind of settlers we need in this country.

Lewis Ayers, who lives west of here, has two brothers with their families, visiting him. They have brought with them a carload of horses and cattle and a carload of implements.

Penron Park.

On Aug. 29, to Mr. and Bowie, a fine bouncing boy.

The friends of Mrs. Wolverton will be pleased to learn that she is improving nicely.

Mrs. C. T. Thompson has been seriously ill for the past three weeks, but is improving through the skillful treatment of the attending physician.

Owing to the rains and wind, the grain is badly lodged in places, making it difficult to cut. There have been five new binders bought in this neighborhood this year.

This speaks well for the crops.

Penron Park has been giving the good news from this part, but has, as yet, said nothing of the Sabbath breaking. I am sorry to know that one of our young men has been using the Lord's day for cutting and raking hay, and now he runs the binder. Such work should be put a step to in a civilized country. Our Indians have more respect for the Sabbath than our young friend. A warning to the wise is sufficient.

Last Sunday evening, about dusk as Victor Thompson was driving along the road, approaching his own place, he saw someone ahead of him putting on the "bud" and attempting to get out of the way. Victor soon discovered that the man was a resident of Wetaskiwin and that he had been helping himself liberally to his oat sheaves. He was also hauling wood—another Sabbath breaker. It is hard to watch such thieves after night.

Nashville Notes

John Sallstrom is having a much needed well dug on his farm.

John Edlund, of Nashville, lost a valuable horse last week from a disease unknown to the writer.

The Nashville school has received some nice furniture in the shape of a new blackboard and globe. The blackboard is of the helioplate style. The kickers can now find something to kick against if they like.

Quite a number of horses are sick in and around Nashville at present. Farmers, look out for your horses. Don't let them remain out in the rain and think you can work them just the same without oats and hay.

There are many new binders around here this summer. The grain will soon be all cut after the ground dries up. Little or no damage has been reported by the recent heavy rain.

Where is the dry weather going? In 1893 the people of Minnehaka county, S. Dak., paid a person who claimed he could make rain, the sum of $5000 to make the attempt; but he failed. Now people you can pride yourself that you don't live in such a country as that. Alberta is alright.

A Night Of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was left for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from Pneumonia before morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of Consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her." This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Ward's drug store.

A RUSTY KEY.

It Cleared Up a Forgotten Murder and Blamed the

"So all things sometimes tell big tales and unravel mysteries of long standing," said an old detective who has seen long service in solving crimes in various parts of the country. "The most singular case that ever fell into my care was a case in which a white man had been murdered in some mysterious way, and the body was put away and all efforts to locate it were out of the question. Suspicion fell on a negro, and he was arrested, but subsequently was released because of the absence of proof to connect him with the crime. The body was missing, and it was certain that the man had been murdered and robbed by some person familiar with the surroundings. The negro had worked for him, but had been discharged because of impudence."

"Two years elapsed. All interest in the crime had died out. One day some negro back-country pickers came across a key, which hung on the limb of a bush. Because of the growth of the bush the handle of the key was partially buried in the limb. Right under the bush the negroes found the bleached and decaying remains of a human form. When the case was reported, I was sent out to investigate the matter, and I gathered up the bones, and took them to the police station. There was a certain amount of interest in the department who possessed a wonderful memory, and he turned all of his attention to the rusty key, which was still in the limb of the bush. I ought to state that the negro had remained in the community and had by his industry bought a few acres of land on which stood the house which had figured in the mysterious disappearance of the years before. 'Cut that key out for me,' said the captain, and it was cut out. He had a conversation with the negro and he was telling me where he was going, asked me to go with him."

"We traveled about four miles and drove up to a little house late in the evening. There was nobody at home. I was very much surprised, but the captain said, and pulling the key from his pocket, he showed it to the negro, turned it and opened the door. The negro came, he never returned. The house was watched all night, but the negro never came. We grew suspicious and soon learned that he had fled upon hearing of the discovery in the brush. The captain strengthened the evidence of his guilt. He was arrested in a neighboring state, returned, tried and convicted and finally executed."

"The key which solved the mystery had got caught in a twig that sprung up in the better path, and but for that fact the mystery would have never been solved."

A Guest Pussler.

In one of the old castles of northern England visitors are shown two rooms which are connected with each other by a singular mechanism. Each room is adjoined by an alcove, used as a sleeping room, and the floors of the adjoining alcoves turn on a pivot in the center of the partition wall.

This ingenious device was the invention of one of the ancestors of the present proprietor, who was somewhat of a wag, and found great pleasure in frightening and mystifying his guests.

When one had gone to bed in the green room and the other in the blue, the floors were turned on their pivots, and on awakening the visitor found himself in strange quarters, with clothes that were not his own.

It is said that this fun-loving lord lost a rich inheritance by disturbing the restful moments of a wealthy aunt, who never forgave the trick her nephew played upon her.

SHE PATIENTLY BORE DISGRACE

A Sad Letter From a Lady Whose Husband Was Dissipated.

How She Cured Him With a Secret Remedy.

"I had for years patiently borne the disgrace, suffering, and privations due to my husband's drinking habit. Hearing of your marvelous remedy for the cure of drunkenness, which I could give my husband secretly, I decided to try it. I procured a package and mixed it in his food and coffee, and, as the remedy was odorless and tasteless, he did not know what it was. It so quickly relieved his craving for liquor, I soon began to pick up, and his appetite for solid food returned. He stuck to his work regularly, and we now have a happy home. After he was completely cured I told him what I had done, when he acknowledged that it had been his saving, as he had not the resolution to break off of his own accord. I heartily advise all women afflicted as I was to give your remedy a trial."

WHY BABIES CRY.

Some Useful Hints to Mothers on the Care of Little Ones.

Babies cry because they are sick or in pain, and in almost every case the sickness or pain is caused by some disorder of the stomach or bowels. For this reason, the mother should be careful to see that the food she gives her baby is of the right kind, and that it is properly digested. The food should be given at regular intervals, and the baby should be kept warm and comfortable. If the baby is crying, the mother should try to find out the cause of the crying, and if it is due to a disorder of the stomach or bowels, she should give the baby some of the medicine mentioned in the article.

SUBSTITUTE FOR THE SILO.

How an Illinois Farmer Prepares His Corn For Winter.

It will be long time before the silo becomes common among ordinary farmers, says J. A. Mills in The Breeder's Gazette. The large first crop, extra force of man and great power required to fill it and some uncertainty as to result are all arguments against it. The small farmer is naturally conservative and slow to adopt innovations. I have a plan, simple, practical and tested by the experience of several years, which I do not claim it is superior to the silo, but perhaps recommended itself by those very qualities. The plan is this: Drill corn as thickly as possible in single rows 3 feet 2 inches apart. Cut it with a corn harrow and set it up in large shocks, 20 to 25 bundles in a shock. Stack it possible after Nov. 1. If it is stacked earlier, it may heat. When needed, it is passed through a feed cutter run by horse power and hauled by my own help. There are a great many nubbins on the stalks, and altogether this makes the best and cheapest feed I have yet found. This season my fodder, part of it stacked in November and part of it drawn from the shock last week, is in excellent condition, and my 40 milk cows are doing nicely with no other roughness. Any one can try this plan without extra expense or a radical change of plans, which is not true of the silo.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1901.

Town Topics.

Roy Talbot was at Edmonton a couple of days of this week.

Another dwelling house is being erected across the track by Jas. Matjka.

Jas. Gourlay, of Lacombe, is at present employed at the Massey-Harris implement rooms.

Don't forget to bring a parcel with you to the ice cream social at Horie's Hall to-night (Friday).

Boy WANTED.—A smart boy wanted at once to learn the art of printing. Apply at The Times office.

Rev. A. R. Robinson was indisposed for several days of this week, but he is around again, and feels much better.

M. S. Kelly has accepted the agency for the renowned nursery stock of Brown Bros. of Wellesley county, Ont. See advt.

The citizens of town were sadly disappointed on Wednesday in not receiving the Winnipeg daily papers, the main line train failing to connect with the C. & E.

Attention is drawn to the house and lot for sale advt. in this issue. The house is at present occupied by W. A. Montgomery. The sale takes place on Saturday, Sept. 21, and R. L. Rushton is the auctioneer.

The coal shed which is being built by Wm. Eggleston, just south of the station will soon be completed. Several cars of coal have been ordered for immediate shipment, and Mr. Eggleston will be doing business in a few days.

The season has now arrived for large vegetables. On Monday of this week, Benj. Hillgartner brought to this office a turnip that measured nearly 28 inches in circumference. We would like to hear of others larger than this.

On Friday of last week B. Krieger brought to this office a half dozen potatoes that are a little above the average size. The six will weigh at least ten pounds and are well formed. One would make a good meal for a labouring man. Mr. Krieger says he has over an acre with tubers nearly as large. Alberta can grow potatoes.

Monday evening's meeting of the ratepayers to organize a fire brigade, and the discussion of other matters pertaining to the town's welfare was a very satisfactory one in all respects. R. C. Ward was chosen temporary chief and Geo. M. Tanton assistant chief of the brigade. Seventeen present volunteered their services, which ensures a good start. The question of drainage was well put before the meeting and a committee composed of J. H. Walker, L. T. Miquelon, J. A. Brown, C. Rideau and others was appointed to take further steps in this matter. The firemen and place next Monday evening to hear reports of committees, etc., and arrange definite matters pertaining to fire protection and drainage.

C. A. Miquelon of Ponoka renewed acquaintances in town on Monday.

The family of Thos. Torson went to Edmonton on Monday's train to visit friends.

W. S. Robertson returned from Wetaskiwin Friday, where he had gone on business connected with the Coldstream fruit ranch, which he represents.—Bulletin.

Some of the boys are indebted to J. W. Heric for his liberal treat of Limburger cheese. It was greatly relished, especially by our friend, the pedagogue.

Wm. Staughton, who has been seeking cure for rheumatism, returned home on Friday's train. He says the hot baths did him a lot of good.

The many friends here of Chas. McManus will be pleased to learn that he is coming to Wetaskiwin to reside. He has accepted a situation with J. W. Heric & Co., duties to begin next week.

The date of Chas. Rodberg's sale is Tuesday, October 1st, not Sept. 24th, as advertised last week. The herd consists of 40 well-bred cattle and horses, and the sale will be held at the Wetaskiwin stock yards.

A very painful accident happened to John Willows Saturday, while he was cutting grain in the field. As he was stepping off the binder the brass spout of the oil can penetrated the thigh of the leg and ran about 34 inches into the flesh. It was feared blood poisoning would set in, but at last reports he is doing nicely.

Constable Rubbra left Thursday morning for Calgary to attend a court of the Royal party arriving on the 28th inst. Constable Rubbra has made many friends during his short stay in town, being very courteous in manner and conscientious in the performance of his duty and his friends hope he will be returned to Wetaskiwin after the escort is over.

Official notification has been received by the Mayor of Calgary that the Duke of York and party who are making a tour of Canada will probably reach that city during the night of the 27th of September. The day's program will consist of a reception of the royal party at the station by the civic authorities. Then there will be an inspection of the barracks and presentation of medals for service in South Africa. The Indian department has decided to bring in as many Indians as are available, from all over the Territories. The Duke will meet them probably on the agricultural grounds, and the gathering will probably be one of the most unique in the history of the Dominion. Lunch will be taken at the barracks, after which the royal party will proceed to Victoria park to witness the attractions provided by the city. Notwithstanding the rumors to the contrary her royal highness the Duchess of Cornwall and York will accompany the prince to Calgary.

A Shocking Calamity.
"Lately I left a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kellett, of Wilford, Ark. "His foot was badly crushed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It is simply wonderful for Burns, Boils, Piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25c. Sold by R. C. Ward."

Twenty-one choice 2-yr-old heifers, the property of Gordon, Ironsides & Fares, are to be sold at the C. P. R. stock yards next Wednesday, 18th inst. R. L. Kishwin will wield the hammer. See advt.

A surgical operation was performed last week upon "Whip" Sharpe. For some time he has had an abnormal growth on one of his cheeks, but last week he had it taken off. "Whip" is back to work again, and the wound will likely heal up without leaving a scar.

The Kelly Merry Makers entertained good houses here on Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week. The entertainment is of a high order and those present thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kelly are accomplished musicians, and can, between them, manipulate some 26 musical instruments.
